And then Mr. Speaker elect was taken out of his Place by the Right Honorable Mr. Pelham and Lord Charles Fitzgerald, who led him from the Bar of the Houſe up to the Chair; where, upon the firſt Step to the Chair, he made a ſhort Speech to the Houſe, and thanked them for the Honor they had done him, and afterwards ſat down in the Chair; and then the Mace, which lay before under the Table, was laid on the Table.

And after him the ſeveral Members preſent took and ſubſcribed the ſaid Oaths, and made and ſubſcribed the ſaid Declaration.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

IT is with more than ordinary Satisfaction that, in obedience to his Majeſty's Commands, I meet you in the full Poſſeſſion and Enjoyment of thoſe conſtitutional and commercial Advantages which have been ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in your laſt Parliament. The ſacred Regard, on the Part of Great-Britain, to the Adjuſtment made with Ireland at that Period, has been abundantly teſtified by the moſt unequivocal Proofs of Sincerity and good Faith.

It will ever be my Wiſh, as it is my Duty, to promote the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and the uniting them in Sentiments as they are in Intereſt; ſuch an Union muſt produce the moſt ſolid Advantages to both, and will add Vigor and Strength to the Empire.

I ſincerely congratulate you on the happy Completion of his Majeſty's anxious Endeavors to reſtore the Bleſſings of Peace to his faithful People. The Eſtabliſhment of the public Tranquillity is peculiarly favorable at this Period, and will naturally give Spirit and Effect to your commercial Purſuits. Both Kingdoms are now enabled to deliberate with undivided Attention on the ſureſt Means of increaſing their Proſperity, and reaping the certain Fruits of reciprocal Affection.

I have the higheſt Satisfaction in acquainting you of the Increaſe of his Majeſty's domeſtic Happineſs, by the Birth of another Princeſs.

Gentlemen of the Houſe Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay the national Accounts before you. From them you will be enabled to judge of the Circumſtances of the Kingdom; and I rely upon your Wiſdom and Loyalty to make ſuch Proviſion as ſhall be fitting for the honorable Support of his Majeſty's Government.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The Miſeries of an approaching Famine have been averted by the Bleſſing of divine Providence upon the Meaſures which the Privy Council adviſed; the good Effects of which were ſoon viſible in the immediate Reduction of the Price of Grain, and the Influx of a valuable and neceſſary Supply to the Market. Any temporary Infringement of the Laws to effect ſuch ſalutary Ends, will, I doubt not, receive a parliamentary Sanction.

Among the many important Objects which demand your Attention, I recommend to your Conſideration Laws for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and for making a new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt Office.

The Linen Manufacture being the Staple of your Country, it is needleſs for me to recommend Perſeverance in the Improvement of that moſt important Article.

The Fiſhery on your Coaſts will claim your Attention as a promiſing Source of Wealth to this Kingdom, and the Encouragements granted to it will, no Doubt, be regulated by you in the Manner moſt likely to produce the beſt Effect, and leaſt ſubject to Fraud and Impoſition.

The Proteſtant Charter Schools, an Inſtitution founded in Wiſdom and Humanity, are alſo moſt eminently intitled to your Care.

I recommend likewiſe to your Attention the Propoſals adopted by Government for providing an Aſylum for the diſtreſſed Genevans. It well becomes the Generoſity of the People of Ireland to extend their Protection to ingenious and induſtrious Men, who may prove a valuable Acquiſition to this Country, which they have preferred to their own. But in forming this Eſtabliſhment, you will doubtleſs conſider it as a Part of your Duty to avoid unneceſſary Expence, and ultimately to ſecure the utmoſt Advantages to your Country.

will

I anticipate the greateſt national Benefits from the Wiſdom and Temper of Parliament, when I conſider that the general Election has afforded you an Opportunity of obſerving the internal Circumſtances of the Country, and of judging by what Regulations you may beſt increaſe its Induſtry, encourage its Manufactures, and extend its Commerce.

In the furtherance of Objects ſo very deſirable to yourſelves, I aſſure you of every good Diſpoſition on my Part; ſenſible that in no Manner I can better fulfil the Wiſhes and Commands of our gracious Sovereign, than by contributing to the Welfare and Happineſs of his loyal Subjects. With an honeſt Ambition of meriting your good Opinion, and with the warmeſt Hope of obtaining it, I have ventured upon my preſent arduous Situation, and with Sentiments pure and diſintereſted towards you, I claim your Advice and firmly rely upon your Support.

Reſolved, Nem. Con.

That an humble Addreſs be preſented to his Majeſty, expreſſing our Sentiments of the moſt unfeigned Attachment to his royal Perſon and Government, and offering to his Majeſty our grateful Thanks for the Appointment of a Nobleman to the Government of this Kingdom, whoſe Juſtice, Integrity and Abilities afford the beſt founded Expectations of national Happineſs and Proſperity under his Adminiſtration. That the Sincerity and good Faith of Great Britain, ſo abundantly teſtified by the ſacred Regard ſhewn on her Part to the Adjuſtment of our Conſtitution and Commerce, demand our warmeſt Acknowledgments; while we enjoy the full Poſſeſſion of thoſe conſtitutional and commercial Advantages which were ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in the laſt Parliament. That we ſhall earneſtly concur in any Meaſure that may confirm and ſtrengthen the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and their Union in Sentiment as well as in Intereſt, from whence the moſt ſolid Advantages muſt ariſe to both Kingdoms, and Vigor

will be added to the Strength of the Empire. That we do already feel the Bleſſings of Peace; and that we intreat his Majeſty to accept our humble Thanks for the happy Completion of his anxious Endeavors to reſtore that inestimable Bleſſing to his faithful People. To expreſs our Hopes that we ſhall now reap the Fruits of our extended Commerce. And to aſſure his Majeſty, that in our Deliberations we ſhall look upon the encreaſing Proſperity of Great Britain with that Regard which muſt be the Effect of reciprocal Affection. That as affectionate Subjects, deeply intereſted in the Happineſs of our beloved Sovereign, we learn with the higheſt Satisfaction the Increaſe of that Happineſs in the Birth of another Princeſs. That we will immediately inſpect the national Accounts, and that happy in his Majeſty's juſt Reliance upon our Loyalty, we will make ſuch Proviſion as ſhall be fitting for the honorable Support of his Majeſty's Government, conſiſtently with the Abilities of the Nation. That we adore the Mercy of Divine Providence in averting from this People the Miſeries of impending Famine, and that we will chearfully concur in a parliamentary Sanction of thoſe wiſe and ſalutary Meaſures which Government purſued by the Advice of the Privy Council. That we ſhall loſe no Time in the neceſſary Meaſures for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and for making a new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt-Office. That we ſhall induſtriouſly perſevere in the Improvement of our Linen Manufacture. That we will not omit an Attention to the Fiſhery, that promiſing Source of Induſtry and Wealth; and that we ſhall endeavor to regulate the Encouragements granted to it, ſo as to produce the beſt Effects, and to prevent Fraud and Impoſition. That we ſhall likewiſe extend our Care to the Proteſtant Charter Schools. That we ſhall readily forward the liberal Intentions of Government to provide an Aſylum for the diſtreſſed Genevans: That ingenious Men have a Claim to the Protection of a generous Nation; but that our own Country is no leſs intitled to that Care, which it is our Duty to exert, in avoiding unneceſſary Expence, and ſecuring the utmoſt Advantage from the Settlement of the Emigrants. That we truſt the Wiſdom and Temper of this Parliament will be manifeſted in all its Proceedings; and to aſſure his Majeſty that we will endeavor to profit by every Opportunity which Circumſtances have afforded us of obſerving the internal State of the Country, and judging what Regulations may beſt encourage and extend its Induſtry, Manufactures and Commerce. That having conſtantly experienced the Beneficence of our gracious Sovereign, in contributing to the Welfare and Happineſs of his faithful Subjects, we lay at his Majeſty's Feet the Tribute of grateful Hearts, earneſtly beſeeching the Divine Providence long to continue the Bleſſings of his Majeſty's auſpicious Reign over a happy, united and loyal People.

TO THE

KING's Moſt Excellent MAJESTY.

THE HUMBLE

OF THE

KNIGHTS, CITIZENS and BURGESSES, in Parliament aſſembled:

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to approach your Majeſty with Sentiments of the moſt unfeigned Attachment to your royal Perſon and Government, and to offer to your Majeſty our grateful Thanks for the Appointment of a Nobleman to the Government of this Kingdom, whoſe Juſtice, Integrity and Abilities afford the beſt-founded Expectations of national Happineſs and Proſperity under his Adminiſtration.

The Sincerity and good Faith of Great Britain, ſo abundantly teſtified by the ſacred Regard ſhewn on her Part to the Adjuſtment of our Conſtitution and Commerce, demand our warmeſt Acknowledgments; while we enjoy the full Poſſeſſion of thoſe conſtitutional and commercial Advantages which were ſo firmly eſtabliſhed in the laſt Parliament.

We ſhall earneſtly concur in any Meaſure that may confirm and ſtrengthen the mutual Confidence of both Kingdoms, and their Union in Sentiment as well as in Intereſt. From thence the moſt ſolid Advantages muſt ariſe to both Kingdoms, and Vigor will be added to the Strength of the Empire.

Already do we feel the Bleſſings of Peace; and we intreat your Majeſty to accept our humble Thanks for the happy Completion of your anxious Endeavors to reſtore that ineſtimable Bleſſing to your faithful People. We hope now to reap the Fruits of our extended Commerce, and in our Deliberations we ſhall look upon the increaſing Proſperity of Great Britain with that Regard which muſt be the Effect of reciprocal Affection.

As affectionate Subjects, deeply intereſted in the Happineſs of our beloved Sovereign, we learn with the higheſt Satisfaction the Increaſe of that Happineſs in the Birth of another Princeſs.

We will immediately inſpect the national Accounts, and happy in your Majeſty's juſt Reliance upon our Loyalty, we will make ſuch Proviſion as ſhall be fitting for the honorable Support of your Majeſty's Government, conſiſtently with the Abilities of the Nation.

We adore the Mercy of Divine Providence in averting from this People the Miſeries of impending Famine; and we will chearfully concur in a parliamentary Sanction of thoſe wiſe and ſalutary Meaſures which Government purſued by the Advice of the Privy Council.

We ſhall loſe no Time in the neceſſary Manner for regulating the Judicature of the Court of Admiralty, and for making a new Eſtabliſhment of the Poſt-Office.

We ſhall induſtriouſly perſevere in the Improvement of our Linen Manufacture; nor ſhall we omit an Attention to the Fiſhery, that promiſing Source of Induſtry and Wealth; and we ſhall endeavor to regulate the Encouragements granted to it, ſo as to produce the beſt Effects, and to prevent Fraud and Impoſition.

We ſhall likewiſe extend our Care to the Proteſtant Charter Schools.

We ſhall readily forward the liberal Intentions of Government to provide an Aſylum for the diſtreſſed Genevans: Ingenious Men have a Claim to the Protection of a generous Nation; but our own Country is no leſs intitled to that Care, which it is our Duty to exert, in avoiding unneceſſary Expence, and ſecuring the utmoſt Advantage from the Settlement of the Emigrants.

We truſt that the Wiſdom and Temper of this Parliament will be manifeſted in all its Proceedings; and we

The

The Right Honorable Mr. Speaker's Speech to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant at the Bar of the Houſe of Peers on preſenting the Money Bills for the royal Aſſent, December 22, 1783.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

HISTORY cannot furniſh many Inſtances of ſuch remarkable Events as have happened in the Courſe of the laſt ſeven Years; of theſe none are more worthy of Obſervation than the Changes in the human Mind, and the more ſo, becauſe they have been produced by Cauſes, from which they were the leaſt to have been expected. New Tenets, more conſonant to the Principles of Humanity and Juſtice, have been univerſally adopted in civil and religious Policy; theſe are the happy but unexpected Fruits of the Calamities of War. In other Countries national Benefits may have compenſated for national Misfortunes, but it has been the peculiar Felicity of this Kingdom to acquire the former without feeling the Severities of the latter; to her ſteady Virtue ſhe owes theſe glorious Attainments, and by her Virtue, I am confident, ſhe will preſerve them, and tranſmit to Poſterity unimpaired the Britiſh Conſtitution, the very Eſſence of which is Liberty and Order. Good Government and Liberty are inſeparable, they are neceſſary to and mutually ſupport and protect each other, and neither can exiſt without the other. The Commons, ſince the Commencement of this Seſſion, have directed their Attention to thoſe important Objects, which were ſo wiſely recommended to them by your Excellency, to improve and ſecure thoſe Advantages, which had been acquired in the laſt Parliament; they have alſo made Proviſion, without laying new Burthens upon the People, for the honorable Support of his Majeſty's Government, and for the Diſcharge of the Arrears upon the Eſtabliſhments; and they have the fulleſt Confidence that your Excellency will repreſent them to his Majeſty as loyal, dutiful and affectionate Subjects.

A Petition of the Merchants, Traders and principal Inhabitants of the Town of Belfaſt, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth that Petitioners had read a Copy of the Bill for regulating the Corn Trade, and that from the Mode therein propoſed for aſcertaining the Prices of Grain in Dublin, by ſtriking an Average of the whole Kingdom, Petitioners are convinced ſaid Bill, if paſſed into a Law, will not operate, as intended, to provide a regular and ſteady Supply of Corn in this Country, but will, on the contrary, place the manufacturing and labouring Poor in the North of Ireland in a much worſe Situation than under the preſent Laws, and effectually deter Merchants from ordering Grain from any foreign Port. That in Great Britain no ſuch Mode has been adopted, but in whatever diſtrict Prices are high the Ports are opened, and where moderate the Ports are ſhut; a Regulation the Utility of which long Experience has evinced, and which therefore Petitioners recommend to the Attention of the Houſe. That Petitioners repreſent that though a Merchant may be well acquainted with the State of the Harveſt, and the Supply of Grain in the County in which he lives, yet no Man can obtain ſo univerſal a Knowledge of the whole Kingdom as to afford him rational Grounds to conclude that the Average of the whole may be ſuch as to open the Ports in Time for him to ſell his Cargo, ſhould he order one, before the enſuing Harveſt; for it is not publiſhing once a Week in the Gazette the Prices of every County, that can give this Knowledge, as the Quantity of Grain may be great even when the Prices are high, and that the Price is no certain Rule to judge of the Quantity on Hand, until the approach of Harveſt. That it is a well-known Fact that in general Grain is much dearer in the North than in the South of Ireland, inſomuch that in Times of Scarcity the Poor in ſeveral of the Northern Counties would be abſolutely periſhing before the average Prices of the whole Kingdom would amount ſo high as to admit Importation from foreign Places. That from the Experience of laſt Year, as well as of former Times, it has been clearly proved that in a ſcarce Year the Prices of Grain may at one Quarter Day be under the Rates fixed by the Bill for permitting Importation, and yet may far exceed them in two or three Weeks after, and under ſuch encreaſing Diſtreſs no Remedy is provided for the long Space of three Months by the Bill now pending; and ſuggeſting to the Houſe that the Perſons appointed by the ſeveral Grand Juries to make weekly Returns of the Prices of Grain ſhould be obliged to ſend a Duplicate of ſuch Return to the Clerk of the Peace for their reſpective ſpective Counties; and that if it ſhall at any Time appear neceſſary to any three or more Juſtices of the Peace for any County, they ſhould have Power, by public Advertiſement, to call a Meeting of the Juſtices of the Peace for ſaid County, at the Place where the Quarter Seſſions are uſually held, which Meeting the Clerk of the Peace ſhould be obliged, under a Penalty, to attend in Perſon or by his Deputy, with the Returns made to him; and in caſe the Average of ſuch Returns for the three Weeks preceding ſuch Meeting ſhall be found to equal or exceed the Limits fixed by the Bill for opening the Ports for any one or more Kinds of Grain, then the Juſtices of the Peace for the County ſo aſſembled, to be empowered by Notice under their Hands and Seals to the different Collectors of the ſaid County, to open the Ports of ſuch County, until next Quarter Day, for the Importation of ſuch Kind or Kinds of Grain, either from Great Britain, or from all Parts, as the Caſe may be.

OF THE

Houſe of Commons.

Mercurij, 3 Die Martij, 1784.

A Petition of the ſeveral Brewers, Diſtillers and other Dealers in Corn, reſident in the Town of Drogheda, was preſented to the Houſe and read, ſetting forth that in the Bill now before the Houſe for regulating the Corn Trade of this Kingdom the Prices of the different Kinds of Grain, at which Bounties are granted on Exportation, and at which Import is to commence, are not duly proportioned, as by the average Prices of the Market of Drogheda, for eight Years paſt, it appears that one Barrel of Wheat is equal to three Barrels of Oats and two of Barley, and requeſting the Houſe may allow Barley its due Proportion of one Half the Price of Wheat for Bounty, by which it will be altered to thirteen Shillings and ſix Pence per Barrel, and ſo on through the ſaid Bill; that the Bounties on Export in the aforeſaid Bill are not fairly rated, particularly on Oats, one Shilling and five Pence per Barrel being granted, though not intitled to more than one Shilling and one Penny and one-third of a Penny; and repreſenting the Injuſtice of the Mode, preſcribed by ſaid Bill, for aſcertaining the national average Price of Iriſh Barley, by which the Prices of all Malt ſold in the City of Dublin, whether Engliſh or Iriſh (though the former ſells forty per Cent. higher than the latter) are made returnable to the Regiſtry in Dublin, together with the Prices of Barley only from the Country, whereby the national Average of Iriſh Barley is to be ſtruck; and as the Sale of malting Corn holds only five Months in the Year, it follows that the Price of Iriſh Barley is to be determined by the Average of Engliſh and Iriſh Malt alone for the two Summer Quarters; and ſubmitting it to the Houſe that the Average Price of malting Corn be aſcertained by the Sales of Bere and Barley alone, and that the medium Average of the two Winter Quarters ſhould determine the Remainder of the Year; and ſubmitting the Premiſes to the Conſideration of the Houſe.

Ordered,

That the ſaid Petition be referred to the Committee of the whole Houſe, appointed to take into Conſideration a Bill for regulating the Corn Trade, promoting Agriculture, and providing a regular and ſteady Supply of Corn in this Kingdom.

The Right Honorable Mr. Cuffe, Chairman of the ſelect Committee appointed to try the Merits of the Petition of the Honorable John James Maxwell, complaining of an undue Election and Return for the County of Cavan, informed the Houſe that the Committee had met this Day, purſuant to Adjournment, and that William Biggers, who was ſummoned to attend the ſaid Committee, did not attend, and that the Committee deſired Leave to adjourn to Monday the 8th Day of March inſtant, and aſſigned ſeveral ſpecial Cauſes to induce the Houſe to give ſuch Leave.

Ordered,

That the ſaid Committee, for the ſpecial Cauſes ſo aſſigned, have Leave to adjourn to Monday the 8th Day of March inſtant, at eleven of the Clock.

And a Perſon being called to the Bar and examined, declared that he ſerved the ſaid William Biggers's Mother with a Copy of the ſaid Summons, at the Houſe of the ſaid William liam Biggers's Father, in the County of Cavan, on the 6th Day of February laſt.

Ordered,

That William Biggers be taken into the Cuſtody of the Serjeant at Arms attending this Houſe.

Reſolved,

That this Houſe will, to-morrow Morning, reſolve itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to take the ſaid Bill into Conſideration.

The Houſe, according to Order, reſolved itſelf into a Committee of the whole Houſe, to take into Conſideration a Bill for raiſing and ſecuring a Fund for a Proviſion for the Widows and Children of the Clergy of the Church of Ireland; and after ſome Time ſpent therein Mr. Speaker reſumed the Chair, and Mr. Maſon reported from the Committee that they had gone through the ſaid Bill, Paragraph by Paragraph, and made ſeveral Amendments thereto, which he was ready to report when the Houſe will pleaſe to receive the ſame.

Ordered,

That the ſaid Report be received to-morrow Morning.

TO HIS GRACE

Charles, Duke of Rutland,

LORD LIEUTENANT GENERAL,

AND

THE HUMBLE

OF THE

KNIGHTS, CITIZENS and BURGESSES, in Parliament aſſembled:

May it pleaſe your Grace,

WE, his Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament aſſembled, ſee with particular Satisfaction the Arrival of that Period which calls upon us to review the various Meaſures of our Seſſion, and to teſtify to your Grace thereupon the warm Senſe of our Obligation and Duty.

We have at once to congratulate ourſelves, and to acknowledge the Goodneſs of our Sovereign, in the Appointment of a Chief Governor, who by Attention to regulate his Conduct by our Wiſhes, hath fully confirmed the Juſtice of that early Confidence which we zealouſly profeſſed in the Liberality of his Diſpoſition, and the Spirit of his hereditary Virtues; a juſt Eſtimation of ſuch Qualities muſt ever render him the Favourite of a ſpirited and generous Nation.

We

We are perſuaded that his Majeſty has obſerved with Pleaſure our Attention to thoſe Objects which were recommended to our Deliberation at the Opening of the Seſſion, and has graciouſly accepted the Aſſurance of Satisfaction which we have repeatedly expreſſed in the Bleſſings of our happy Conſtitution.

And when we reflect upon the Meaſures we have taken to enſure a conſtant Supply of Corn under every poſſible Circumſtance; upon the Proſpect of Benefit in the Management of the Revenue; upon our Attention to make the additional Security of private Property a Cauſe of Increaſe to the national Credit; upon our Proviſion for the Improvement of the Metropolis, and our Encouragement of uſeful Eſtabliſhments, and of various Branches of Trade and Manufacture, we doubt not of receiving the true Reward of our Services, in the Approbation of our Sovereign, and in the Gratitude of our fellow Subjects.

We reflect with true Pride and Satisfaction upon the ſolid Advantages which have been obtained for this Country within a very ſhort Period. We are aware of the Situation of the Empire, and the peculiar Circumſtances which have prevented the Adjuſtment of ſome Points which concern our Trade and Manufactures, and we rely upon the Readineſs of your Grace's liberal and benevolent Aſſiſtance for the Furtherance of ſuch practicable Meaſures as deliberate Wiſdom and generous Policy may adapt to our real Neceſſities and general Intereſts.

As Guardians of the Rights and Safety of our fellow Subjects, as well as Aſſertors of the national Honor, we have felt ourſelves called upon to expreſs our Abhorrence of Tumult and of ſeditious Publications; zealous to uphold the true Spirit of the Conſtitution, we have made it the Object of our unanimous Reſolution to defend its genuine Liberty againſt the Attacks of Licentiouſneſs.

We have not ſuffered to eſcape our grateful Obſervation the early Anxiety which your Grace manifeſted to remove every Apprehenſion of party Prejudices or partial Changes in the Councils or Meaſures of Government. We feel and acknowledge the Benefits ariſing from ſuch a

Principle;

Principle; we have ſtudied to ſhew a ſincere Diſpoſition to confirm them, by a liberal Imitation; and we ſhall be zealous to concur in diffuſing throughout every Part of the Kingdom the ſucceſsful Influence of ſo happy an Example. Convinced as we are of the Importance to this Kingdom of a ſteady and permanent Adminiſtration, it is our ardent Wiſh that his Majeſty may long continue your Grace in the Government of Ireland.

The firſt Paragraph being read a ſecond Time, an Amendment was propoſed to be made therein, by inſerting after the Word Period, the Words "when we are to "expreſs the high Reſpect this Houſe entertains for the "illuſtrious and hereditary Virtues of your Grace."

And the Queſtion being put that the ſaid Words ſtand Part of the Paragraph,

It paſſed in the Negative.

Then the Queſtion being put that the Paragraph ſtand Part of the Addreſs,

It was carried in the Affirmative.

The ſecond, third, fourth, fifth, and ſixth Paragraphs being ſeverally read a ſecond Time, and the Queſtion being ſeverally put that the ſaid ſeveral Paragraphs reſpectively ſtand Part of the Addreſs,

It was carried in the Affirmative.

The ſeventh Paragraph being read a ſecond Time, an Amendment was propoſed to be made thereto, by adding the following Words:

"Humbly entreating your Grace that your Grace will "be pleaſed, before the Concluſion of this Seſſion, to "quiet the Apprehenſions of this Houſe, by an Aſſurance "that no new and expenſive Offices of State will be eſta-"bliſhed, nor any Penſions given in exchange for Public "Offices, unleſs it be for the Purpoſe of ſuppreſſing "them."

And the Queſtion being put that the ſaid Words ſtand Part of the Paragraph,

It paſſed in the Negative.

Then the Queſtion being put that the ſaid Paragraph ſtand Part of the Addreſs,

It

It was carried in the Affirmative.

And then his Grace was pleaſed to make a Speech to both Houſes of Parliament, which is as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen,

In addreſſing you for the firſt Time in Parliament, at the Cloſe of the Seſſion, I embrace with Pleaſure the Occaſion which is afforded me of returning you my affectionate Acknowledgments for the Cordiality of my Reception, and the early Aſſurances of your Confidence. And I am at the ſame Time highly gratified in being authorized to communicate to you the Sentiments of perfect Satisfaction with which his Majeſty approves of your Exertions for the Public Welfare.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I am happy in obeying his Majeſty's Commands, to thank you for the Chearfulneſs with which you have made Proviſion for the Exigencies and Honor of his Government. Let me aſſure you, on my Part, that the Readineſs with which you have granted Supplies ſtimulates my utmoſt Attention and Care, that they ſhall be managed with Oeconomy, and applied with Prudence.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

You will have much Satisfaction in reflecting that the various Objects which, in conſequence of the acknowledged Independence of the Legiſlature, were recommended for your Deliberations, at the Opening of this Seſſion, have been diligently purſued and accompliſhed.

You have wiſely given your Sanction to the extraordinary Expedients which it has been neceſſary to employ in order to preſerve the Kingdom from Famine; and I feel great Satisfaction in the Proſpect that they will be prevented for the future, by the new and judicious Arrangement of your Corn Laws, and the improved Extenſion of your Agriculture.

I ſee with Pleaſure the Exertions of an humane and liberal Principle, which has prompted you to give Encouragement to the national Induſtry, by favorable Regulations and well directed Bounties. I have warmly at Heart the Advancement of your Trade, and the Succeſs of all your Manufactures, and I ſhall not fail either to conſider or to repreſent thoſe Inſtances whereof the peculiar Circumſtances of the Empire have hitherto prevented a full Inveſtigation, and which ſhall be found to require a further Adjuſtment.

The uſeful Regulations propoſed to be introduced into the Collection and Management of the Revenue; the Security of private Property, and Extenſion of national Credit, by depoſiting in the Bank of Ireland the Money of Suitors in the Courts of Chancery and Exchequer; the Plans for improving the Metropolis, calculated not more for Ornament and Splendor, than for Health and Convenience; your unanimous Determination to defend the Freedom of the Conſtitution againſt the Attacks of Licentiouſneſs; and your Attention to the Support of charitable Inſtitutions, are all unequivocal Teſtimonies of your Wiſdom, Humanity and Juſtice.

I have not failed to convey to our Sovereign the Satisfaction you have ſo decidedly expreſſed in the Bleſſings of that happy Conſtitution which you enjoy under his Majeſty's auſpicious Government. Senſible as you are of theſe eminent Advantages, it can hardly be neceſſary for me to deſire that you ſhould be attentive to impreſs them on the Minds of others, over whom your Superiority of Rank and Information muſt and ought to give you a juſt and benevolent Influence.

I have a ſure Confidence, that during your Reſidence in your reſpective Counties you will ſeek to direct and encourage the Induſtry of your Neighbourhood, in the Purſuits beſt adapted to their Situations, and by which the Community at large may be moſt effectually benefited. You will point out to them the real Reſources of a free and fertile Country, under the Bleſſings of Peace, and the mild Protection of the Laws; and you will not ſuffer Miſapprehenſions to perplex, or falſe Informations to miſguide them.

It is my Happineſs and Pride to reflect that our united Attention has been, and is directed to the ſame Objects, of maintaining and advancing the Rights, the Dignity, and the Proſperity of Ireland, and the general Intereſts of the Empire.

And then the Lord Chancellor declared that it was his Grace the Lord Lieutenant's Pleaſure that this Parliament be prorogued to Tueſday the 29th Day of June next; and the Parliament was accordingly prorogued to Tueſday the 29th Day of June next.
